Headmaster's Message

Towards the end of the year, many students will be seeking employment. This matter should receive very serious consideration. One factor that will assist a student is the possession of the best possible Certificates.

A Leaving Certificate, an Intermediate Certificate, a School Reference and School Reports are all valuable.

An interview with an employer will be necessary. The first impression an employer receives of the applicant will be at the interview and will be of the greatest importance. I doubt that any employer will be impressed by an exaggerated hair style or odd method of dressing.

The general behaviour and bearing of students outside the School must have some effect on your opportunities for obtaining employment.

Penrith High School is now being renovated. Extensive repairs and painting are being carried out. When this work is completed, it will be a more pleasant School in which to study.

There are many visitors including employers to the School and they will be impressed not only by your conduct but also by the condition of the School building.

It is in your own interest to keep the School buildings, furniture and grounds in good order.

J. P. SHARPE, Headmaster.

MR. H. L. EVANS

This year the school was saddened at the sudden passing of Mr. Evans. Mr. Evans, who was born at Uralla, studied at the Armidale School and Sydney High School before entering Armidale Teachers' College in 1931. During the Second World War he served in the A.I.F. He taught at many schools in N.S.W., including Narraweena, and Blacktown West, before coming to Penrith in 1961. In the four years he was at Penrith, Mr. Evans gained the love and friendship of the school, especially of those he taught. His fellow teachers respected him and many enjoyed his close friendship. The school, staff and children, extend their heartfelt sympathy to his wife and relatives.
