

THE TOWERS 1975

EDITORIAL

Much to everybody's surprise, once more The Towers has been produced. Mrs. McAlpine, the original editor, faced with the horrific task, went screaming on to a plane for an extended tour of Europe. Our thanks go to her for her early efforts.

Other people we must thank are Mr. Earp for volunteering us for this task, and the group of Fifth formers who so willingly collected money and wrote so many reports. Actually, so many people were involved, - writing reports, helping with design and layout and giving advice, and we must thank them all especially Mrs. Chamberlin for perservering with the typing of everything.

So here it is - the masses of paper are collected together, the photographs shrunk, and all the brilliant ideas presented for you to read, look at, enjoy.

J. MANSELL
J. RENTZSCH
Co-Editors.

Work on the new buildings.